ABOUT ME

Sabine Strutzke is a German artist known for her sketchbook work and mixed media projects. Her artistic portfolio includes a variety of themes, often exploring urban environments, landscapes, and everyday scenes with a unique and expressive style. She frequently works with ink and pencils, showcasing her ability to capture the essence of places like Parisian cafés, Venetian canals, and Amsterdam streets in her sketchbooks.

Strutzke also experiments with digital art and monoprints, creating a diverse range of works that blend traditional and modern techniques. Her projects often revolve around specific themes, like her “Film Night” series, which combines background washes with detailed sketches.
